The Chairman's Vision

Years back, whenever I went to my son's school, somewhere I felt an urge. It took several years to realize that the urge was actually a persistent dream. This dream was within me, germinated since my tumultuous childhood days at the time of the freedom movement and Partition.

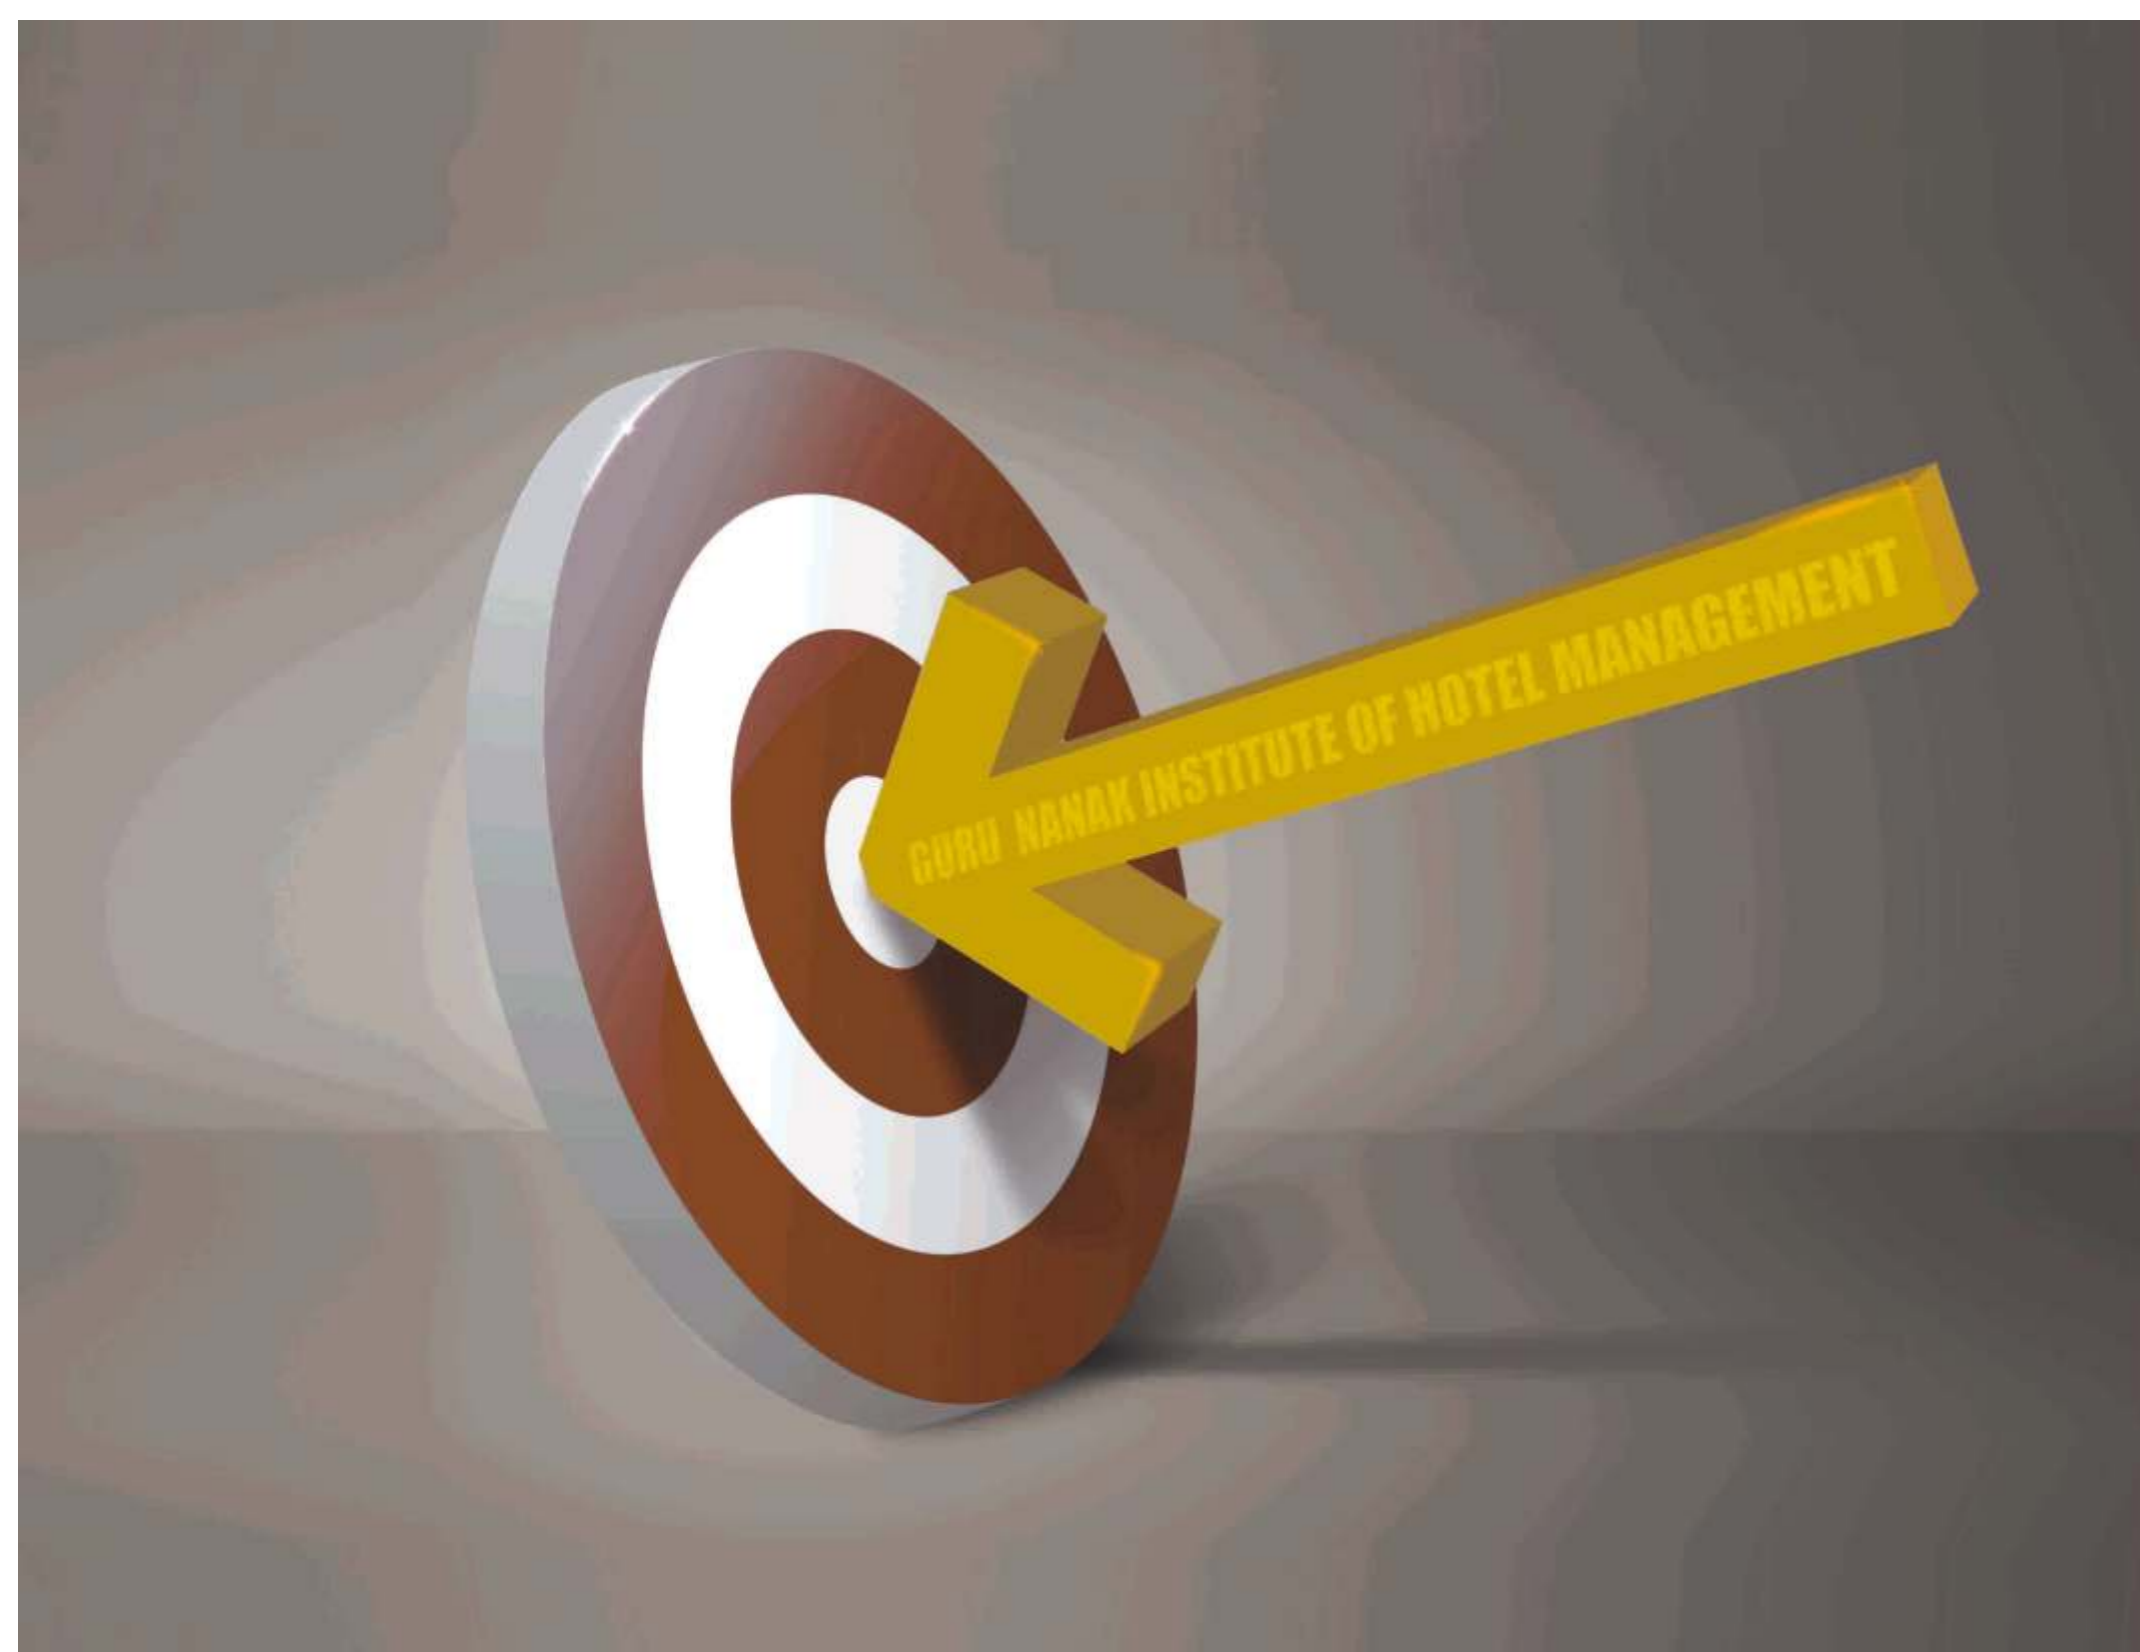

At the dawn of the new millennium, came the opportune moment to realize this dream. The urge was to give back to the society, initiatives which are worth mentioning for their contribution to people. Thus was born the JIS Group Educational Initiatives.

Now it's a proud moment for me and my team, when we see, thousands of students every year leaving the portals of our educational institutions with smiling faces looking ahead to bright futures. While establishing each of these institutions, the objective was to give opportunities to students from eastern India - a high standard platform on which to learn, inherit domain skills which are completely career-linked. This has extended our reach from graduate/postgraduate programmes in engineering & technology to computer applications, management studies, medical science, pharmacy, hospitality management, allied health science, diploma & certificate programmes, techno-commercial subjects and many more. In addition we have also forayed into quality healthcare services through our Dental College which is the first private Dental College in West Bengal.

Our vision is simple "Igniting Minds, Empowering Lives". The journey has just begun. Even my octogenarian physique fills with invigorating energy for the days ahead. The next two-three years will see JIS Group's quantum leap, with several new educational initiatives in the areas of paramedical science, nursing, education, law, automobile engineering, and finally the most ambitious project ; a medical college with a modern hospital.

In these twelve years, I learnt a lot from life, and now I am confident that the Group is ready to become an initiative of national significance.

From the Desk of the Principal

The Hospitality and Tourism Industry is the fastest growing, job creating industry in the world. With annual revenue approaching $ 500 billion, over 200 million people are directly or indirectly employed in the Tourism and Hospitality segment. According to World Tourism Organization the industry creates a new post every 10 minutes. Tourism is the single largest industry in the world, which will accommodate one fifth of the world's total manpower employment by end of 2011.

In India too the industry is on a high roll. World Tourism Organization have identified India as one of the largest tourist growth centres in the coming decade. India is also the largest employment creator, next only to China. The Indian Hotel market is already generating serious interest from international operators and hotel developers. After key events like the Commonwealth Games in 2010 and the Cricket World Cup in 2011, the demand for trained and skilled manpower in the field of Hospitality and Tourism has nearly doubled.

This is an exciting time for the Hospitality Industry, a time that has recently seen unprecedented growth and opportunities for advancement. With future projected growth being highly favourable, both domestically and internationally, the outlook for someone eyeing the field of Hospitality Management is indeed bright. The Hospitality Industry constitutes the major portion of the Tourism Industry. Wherever people go they need two things 'food and lodging' and the Hospitality Industry caters to these basic needs. The Hospitality Industry is growing at a rapid pace and the global scenario is changing. In this scenario, the demand for high calibre well educated and trained professionals will far outstrip the supply.

The industry needs trained and skilled professionals to work in sectors like hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, railways, airlines, ships, industry houses, fast food outlets, community centres and many more.

To work in the Tourism and Hospitality Industry, team work is essential, one has to be physically fit, disciplined, polite, smart, well groomed, punctual, and have a good understanding of hygiene and sanitation.

In the Tourism and Hotel Industry we must remember the 6'S, which are Service, Sincerity, Skill, Smartness, Speed and Smile. We hope that the Hospitality programmes offered by GNIHM will be of great interest to you, fit your profile and provide you with a lifetime career.

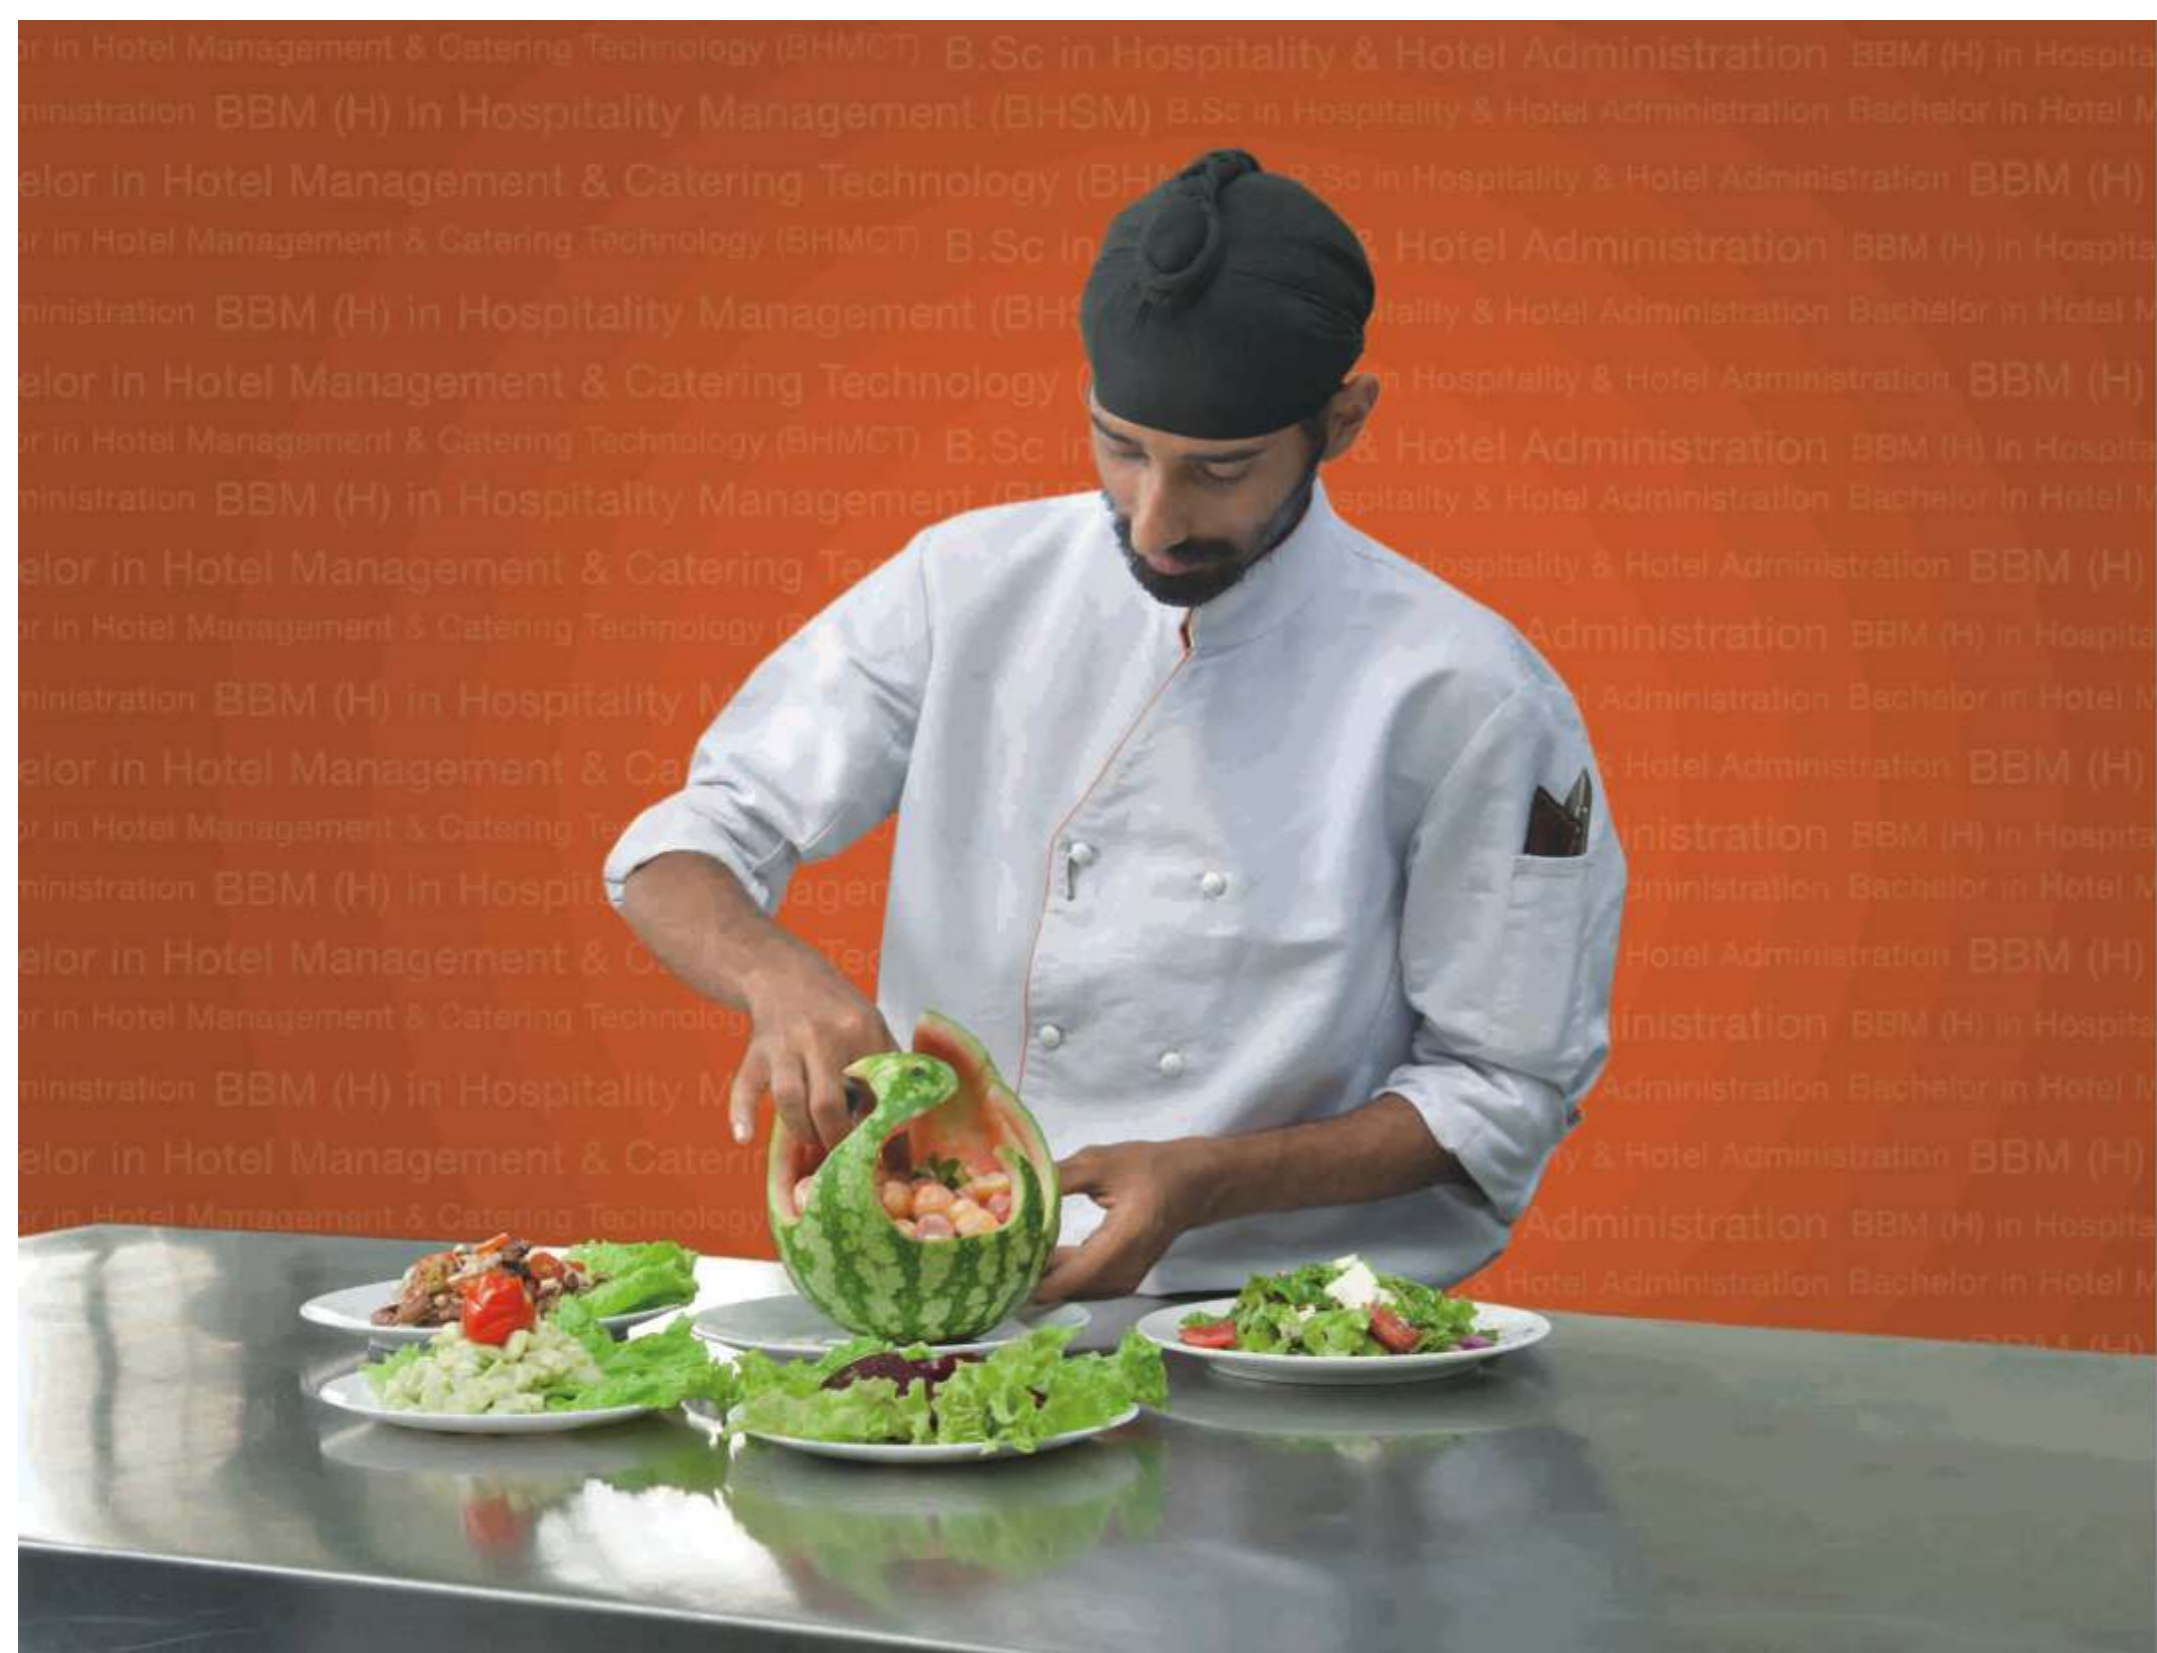

With best wishes from

Principal
